

PINGO - Parent Involvement Nurtures Great Opportunities

Visit an elderly neighbor		Jump rope	Have a picnic	Watch an old movie
	Play a board game	Go star gazing	Make a snack for a friend
Plan a treasure hunt		Create a dress-up box	Play hide and seek	Visit a fire station
Volunteer	Take a nature walk		Go to a local sporting event	Build a fort
Play cards	Collect leaves	Have a magic show		Plan a meal together

Building a Bridge Between Home and School

PINGO stands for Parent Involvement Nurtures Great Opportunities. Parents can be given a card at the meeting. The PINGO card is divided into 25 squares, each having a description of an activity that parents can do with their children while at home. Parents can take the card home and complete five of the activities, either in a row or a diagonal. When parents have completed the card they can return it to school for a prize. This game helps to promote parental involvement both in school and at home.

Read more : http://www.ehow.com/info_7991306_games-parent-involvement-workshops.html