

Letters and Sounds in a Flash!

This game is played similar to BANG, and many other small group word games out there. To play, students pick a card from the pile. The student makes the sound the letter makes and gets to keep the card. If a flash card is pulled, they must tell you if this letter is in their own name. Playing continues until there are no more cards.

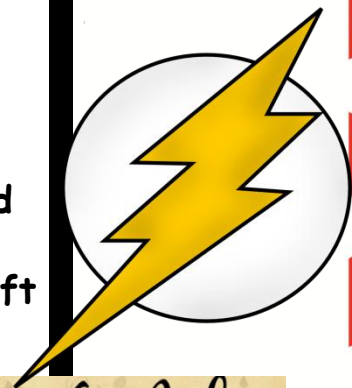

I also included 3 game over cards, in case you decide to omit the “is this letter in your name” idea and you would rather play it like a regular game.

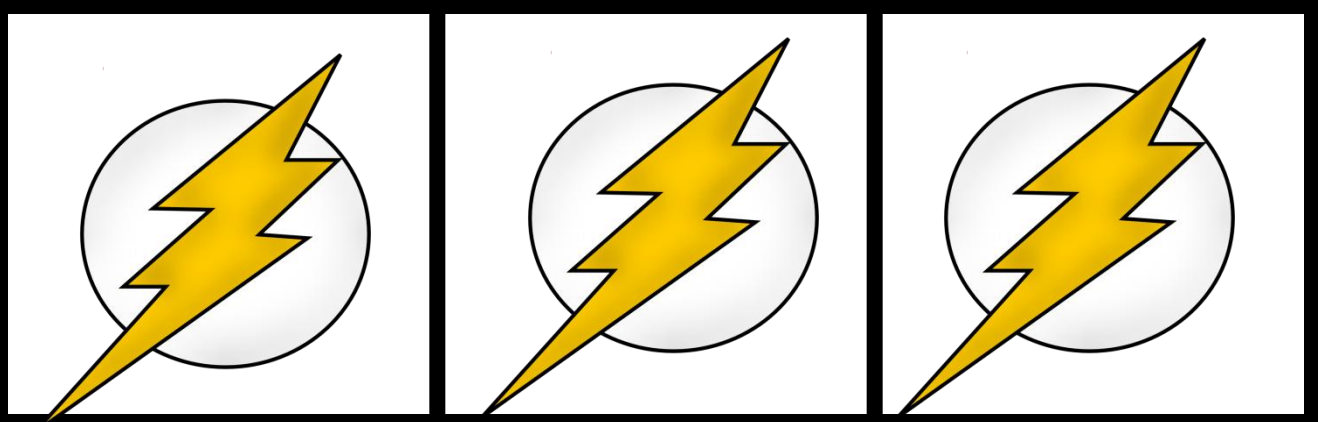

Hope you can use this in your classroom and check back soon, I'll be posting a super hero packet soon!--Edd
